EEPLIANT 2

Helping Authorities to increase compliance for ecodesign and energy labelling

Call for expressions of interest from Accredited Laboratories experienced with energy efficiency testing of refrigerated appliances

For the EU project EEPLIANT2 we are seeking accredited, independent laboratories located within the EEA with experience of testing refrigerated appliances using harmonized EU standards. An open tender is planned for April/May 2018 covering appliance testing in 2018/2019.

Laboratories are invited to register their interest in the tender, without obligation. To receive direct notification when the invitation to tender is released, please provide us with a contact name and email address in an email to info@prosafe.org with 'EEPLIANT2 refrigeration lab tender' in the subject line. The invitation to tender will be published at www.eepliant.eu.

Scope of required testing services:

- Professional refrigerated storage cabinets to EN 16825 under regulations 2015/1094 and 2015/1095;
- Household refrigerators and freezers to EN 62552 under regulations 643/2009 and 1060/2010.

About EEPLIANT2:

The EEPLIANT2 project unites market surveillance authorities from 15 EU Member States to work together to increase compliance with energy efficiency and ecodesign requirements. EEPLIANT2 covers the product groups of: household refrigerators, professional refrigerated storage cabinets and network standby.

The project involves joint monitoring, verification and enforcement activities across Austria, Bulgaria, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, the Netherlands, Portugal, Slovenia, and Sweden. It runs from September 2017 to February 2020 and is coordinated by PROSAFE and funded by the European Union under the Horizon 2020 framework.
